Information about new IT employees for ZT systems

In The Hague we have the Institute of Social Studies (ISS).
Students from Africa follow a bachelor or master program there and the intention is that they go back and put the acquired knowledge into practice.
If an African student were to study hydraulic engineering at Delft University of Technology, you could imagine him supervising irrigation projects in his home country.
But the studies that the ladies follow, such as Human Rights, do not lead to work.
And after their studies in the Netherlands they don't want to go back because women are treated with more respect than in their homeland, to put it euphemistically.
The IND (Immigration Service) gives these ladies one year to find paid work after graduating from their bachelor's or master's degree to be allowed to stay.
Graduated creates 2 problems (and a lot of stress)
No paid work and no housing because they have to leave their room at ISS.
In addition, they don't speak Dutch but they do speak English.
Komp u ter hulp (A The Hague wordplay for come to help you) is probably the only one that also teaches English at this level.
And has a relationship with recruiters for ZT systems.

A company in America that installs patch cabinets.
These are data center cabinets with glass doors in which cabling and equipment are installed according to the customer's wishes.

An enormous hall has been built in Almelo to serve the European market.

They want to hire 300 people this year.

The former ISS students are retrained by Komputerhulp in 7-12 weeks to IT System Administrator and with a week they are then transferred to ZT systems in Almelo.

They provide a room and the starting salary is 2,300 euros per month.

Aliya (33), Erica (34), Annet (28) are already over and Gloria (22) will follow them.

Also trained are Giselle (32), Grace (24) and Magdalena (41) who have now found paid work elsewhere.

About Gloria

Gloria is 22 years old and the daughter of Rwandan embassy staff in the Netherlands.

She resides with her parents, but she does not (yet) have permission from the IND to work.

In order to work, the interested company can submit an application according to form 7044.

That form can be used to apply for a combined residence and work permit on behalf of the employee.

This is then assessed by the UWV (department of job seekers) and then she is given permission to work.

The IND is not difficult for people residing in the Netherlands, as long as they have the idea that the person in question is not going to apply to the social services.

With an IT education and her age, they need not fear that.
