In 8-12 weeks to a higher education and/or a job in IT.

Secondary vocational education in the Netherlands is only given in Dutch.

Komp u ter hulp (A The Hague wordplaying for: come to help you) offers a free IT management course in English for 6-12 women.

You don't need to know anything about IT.

It's about motivation and you need to have a good memory.

In the Netherlands we have a hopeless system that involves vocational education. And IT is the worst.

Even the Minister of Education complains about the deplorable level.

We have MBO level 1, 2, 3, 4 and with 4 you can go to College (Hogeschool, HBO)

Depending on the school advice, a child goes to 2, 3 or 4.

Schools prefer to put children whose parents are rated low, for example because they do not speak Dutch very well, in level 1 or 2 because this results in a budget of 7,600 euros per year. Our children are taken hostage for the budget.

Kinderg.	Primary	VMBO	MBO-1	MBO-2	MBO-3	MBO-4	College
3 years	6 years	4 years	1 year	2 years	3 years	3 years	4 years

Komp u ter hulp has a curriculum that is supplemented with practical lessons and that is assessed at level 3 and then the students are allowed to go straight to level 4 after 8-12 weeks without any prior training.

Actually it's level 5 but of course no school will admit that.

Now you don't have to be so happy with 3 years of level 4
Eventually you don't learn anything at school, but only during the internship periods.
So that the school can give you the diploma and you will be allowed to attend College.
(Hogeschool, HBO)

But the 21 admission test for College is also possible, if you do not meet the pre-education requirements

If you turn 21 on 31 August, you can take the test when you're 20.

It costs 150 euros and you can take that test in January with a resit in June, so you can flow in on September 1st.

At Komp u ter hulp they can follow the education and then they have the equivalent from level 3.

If they are also eligible for College after the 21 admission test, they will be looking for a job, which they will definitely get, because they can prove with their website that they have the necessary skills. See the examples of the role models below

Declaring that they are eligible for College will mean that they will get paid work with part-time College, paid by the company and then they will not have any study debt.

IT training

At 8-12 weeks you can already have work in IT

You don't need to know anything about IT

You will get a website (117 pages) that you learn to maintain yourself and there you will put pictures of your practical assignments on it.

And with that you will present yourself to work or a higher education.

The location is corona proof

Vocational education in the Netherlands is only taught in Dutch.

But here it can also be taught in English.
